

Helping your business expand

Through our dedicated and professional team, Ellacotts have made a particular specialisation of advising and helping international businesses, whether expanding into the UK, Europe or further afield and whether setting up a new company, acquiring a business or company or just exploring new markets.

We can provide a one-stop-shop for all your international requirements or offer selected services as and when you require. Whatever your needs are, we have the expertise to assist you and help your business expand:

Expanding Overseas Operations into the UK:

The UK remains an important market and is one of the largest global economies. The UK business environment is regarded as not only one of the most attractive in the world but also one of the most competitive, and the UK Government continues to encourage multinational organisations to invest in and expand into the UK.

We understand the complexities of the UK business environment and are able to help established international businesses in the UK or businesses expanding into the UK in a number of ways:

- Advising on the most appropriate business structure in the UK (e.g. subsidiary company, branch office etc)
- Dealing with the business structure, formation and registration with relevant UK authorities, including acting as the UK registered office for the business
- Introducing you to potential partners, suppliers, distributors, bankers and solicitors
- Assisting you in relation to any fund raising and finance requirements in the UK
- Providing you with outsourced accounting solutions, including bookkeeping, management accounts, VAT return compliance and payroll bureau and compliance
- Advising you in relation to international tax issues, including VAT and cross-boarder transactions and corporation tax issues including transfer pricing
- Liaising with your parent company group auditors in relation to your annual audit requirements
- Reviewing your R&D expenditure and advising on the availability of R&D tax credits

Expanding UK Operations Overseas:

Through our membership of the UK200 Group and links to the International Association of Practising Accountants (IAPA), we are also able to provide international support and solutions for your business. Our approach is to gain a clear understanding of your goals and objectives, and then look at how we can help you with these, including introducing you to the appropriate contacts and organisations overseas.

Testimonial

Peter has been a great help to us working successfully with a number of our international clients. Since becoming a client of Ellacotts, our own business has grown and developed as a result of his sound guidance, expertise and enthusiasm.
